

Georgia Love

TV Presenter, MC and Host

Georgia Love is a familiar face on television, having appeared on Channel Ten's popular show, The Bachelorette in 2016.

A charismatic media personality, she has also anchored news programs and worked in radio.

Georgia Love's warm personality, confident style and strong emotional intelligence make her an ideal MC / Host for corporate and public events.

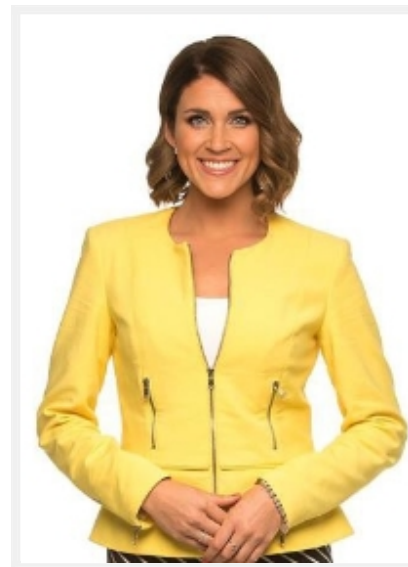

Her extensive MC and hosting experience includes the Mothers' Day Classic, Breast Cancer Network Australia and Barnardo's Mother of the Year.

Originally from Melbourne, Georgia Love experienced the biggest whirlwind of her life when The Bachelorette aired on Channel 10 in 2016. After a nation-wide search, Georgia's impressive career accomplishments, down-to-earth nature and warm personality made her the clear choice for the series. She built a strong following on the show with an air of confidence, grace and intelligence that carried her through the in-depth process.

At the time Georgia was approached to be The Bachelorette, she was the prime-time weekday news anchor for WIN News Tasmania based in Hobart. She had been the network's weekend news anchor and a general news reporter for nearly two years, covering state and national elections, court and criminal reporting and the Sydney to Hobart Yacht Race, among other national events.

Prior to this, Georgia spent two years in Launceston as a general news reporter after being stationed in Gippsland at Prime 7. Georgia has also had experience working in radio for Hobart's 7HOFM.

Georgia holds a Bachelor of Communications (Journalism) from RMIT University. She has a keen interest in the theatrical arts and strongly supports the Pancare Foundation and the Cancer Council of Australia.
