

Peter Thompson

Broadcaster and communication consultant

Peter Thompson is a broadcaster, educator, author and communication consultant. He presented ABC TV's Talking Heads - intimate conversations about the lives of prominent Australians - for six seasons and was the voice of ABC Radio's AM and Radio National Breakfast for fourteen years.

Peter's passion for communication extends far beyond broadcasting. He is a Fellow of the Australia and New Zealand School of Government where he teaches executive programs in communication strategy and adaptive change, risk and crisis communication and behavioural change.

Peter is a highly experienced keynote speaker at conferences and executive educational programs on topics such as leadership, communication strategy, risk and crisis communication and behavioural change.

He is also in demand as a facilitator/interviewer and Master of Ceremonies at conferences, community meetings, conventions and awards nights.

Peter is Director of the Centre for Leadership which works with the public, private and not-for-profit sectors on communication strategy and practice. Its services include media and presentation training and creating Hypotheticals as feature corporate events.

He was presented with the prestigious University of NSW Alumni Association Award for Achievement for his involvement in the community campaign that saved Tasmania's Franklin River from hydro-electric development. He wrote two books on the issue, Power in Tasmania and Bob Brown of the Franklin River, and was closely involved in developing and implementing the successful campaign strategy.

His other books include Persuading Aristotle and The Secrets of the Great Communicators, which became a bestseller.

Peter Thompson holds a Master of Public Administration from the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard, an MBA from the Australian Graduate School of Management and an Arts degree in politics and history from the Australian National University.

Peter is also an Adjunct Professor at Macquarie University's Department of International Communication.

Peter's warm, intelligent and interactive style makes him popular with corporations, organisations and audiences of all types.

Client Testimonials

The feedback on the panel sessions has been very strong ... The firm really values the relationship it has established with you... the generous contribution that you made to us and BD's development has been widely regarded by the partners as outstanding.

Blake Dawson

I just can't thank you enough for your delivery at the forum. I only now have the formal feedback and it was extraordinary. It confirms the buzz of the night and all the follow up contacts I've received. The event was rated in our top 3 out of over 300 and you earned great recognition and applause.

Tasmanian Dept State and Regional Development

For two years in a row now, Peter has handled his role as MC facilitator with sensitivity and professional aplomb. Peter is in a league of his own as a corporate MC/interviewer. He digs deep and drills into the key issues. If any client is looking for a frothy, shallow MC, don't choose Peter Thompson! If you're looking for a brave, intelligent, insightful MC, Peter Thompson is your man.
