

The BBQ Kings

Musical comedy act

The BBQ Kings is the brainchild of Tony Williams, Pat Drummond and Chris O'Leary - three Aussie larrikins who love sharing a good yarn with mates behind the flame of their barbie.

Also three of Australia's most experienced stage performers, they specialise in singing sizzling harmonies and burning meat. They are The BBQ Kings.

The BBQ Kings offer great entertainment for corporate dinners, festivals and events.

Cooking up a storm from behind their souped-up, six-burner, eighty-eight piano key barbie with tongs, guitar, and blues harmonica in hand, The BBQ Kings deliver an assortment of quirky original songs, seasoned with a funny, witty and a deliciously tender performance.

Their stage show represents a coming together of interactive comedy, banter, clever song writing, brilliant vocal harmonies and highly skilled musicianship.

Who will be able to forget those soon-to-be classics: Manboob, When Your Hair Begins to Go or The Day that Tammy Took the Tong? These are songs that every Aussie bloke relates to and women laughingly understand.

Blending their unique brand of quirky humour, energetic storytelling and musical mastery, The BBQ Kings will bring comedic brilliance to your table.

They're hot, they're funny and they do a mean snag. They are The BBQ Kings.

More about The BBQ Kings:

Chris O'Leary (Vocals, Melodeon, Blues Harmonica) - As a youngster, Chris was a member of the highly prestigious Augustinian Boys Choir, going on to become the founder, co-creator and lead vocalist of the Sydney wonder band, The One Hit Wonders, where he was well known to Australian pub and corporate audiences for his command of the stage.

Pat Drummond (Vocals, Guitar, Spoons) - Pat was a legend of the Sydney Hotel scene in the 70s and 80s. He has since been inducted into the Australian Country Music Hands Of Fame in 2003, named Australian Independent Country Music Artist of The Year, 4 x Grand Finalist in the CMAA Golden Guitar Country Music Awards and Winner of the prestigious TSA Songwriting Awards.

Tony Williams (Vocals, Keys and Finger Clicks) - Tony is as versatile as professional entertainers come. He is classically trained in piano, a talented guitarist and a sensational singer; as well as being one half of the musical comedy/mime stage act, Carpe Idiotus. Tony represented Australia at the 1996 International Songwriting Awards where he won two categories.