

Nicky Buckley

TV Presenter, MC & Host

Nicky Buckley is one of Australia's most recognised female faces and a highly respected household name. For over two decades she enjoyed a successful career in television appearing and presenting in popular programs including Sales of the Century, Perfect Match and Dancing With The Stars.

Nicky's broad market appeal has ensured her popularity as a speaker and MC with both the corporate and leisure market, where she easily engages with people of all ages, from the young to the old. Her clients have included David Jones, Myer, Telstra, P&O, Business Chicks Australia and Vita High Vitamins.

Nicky Buckley began her career in modelling before moving into television as co-host of Channel 10's Perfect Match. She then became involved as a regular Nicky's public profile peaked again in 2005 as she appeared as a celebrity contestant on Seven Network's top rating show Dancing With The Stars. In 2006 her profile continued to grow and she hosted Talk To The Animals, a weekly animal lifestyle program on Nine Network.

During 2010 Nicky hosted and presented on Channel 7's Guide to the Good Life. The program saw Nicky cover a range of stories including travel, food, entertainment and fashion. With her husband Murray she shot Making Tracks – a travel and lifestyle show for the Ten Network. Making Tracks taps into Australia's enthusiasm for road trips and exploring the vastness of the country. Nicky and Murray travelled the length and breadth of Australia to uncover hidden secrets off the beaten track.

In 2011 Nicky co-hosted another series of Channel 7's Guide to the Good Life and another series of Making Tracks. The following year she shot stories and acted as regular fill-in host for Mornings on Channel 9.

In 2015, Nicky released her first book. Nicky Buckley - a Memoir, which looked at her personal journey in media and took readers behind the scenes into a life under the spotlight. In writing about family values, being a mother, parenthood, the challenges of business, and of the time when she was scrutinised for being pregnant on television, Nicky changed the way we think about women on TV.

In 2016 Nicky launched her own workshop, aimed at empowering women.

During her career, she has enjoyed long-standing and successful commercial endorsements including Cricket Australia, Intimo Lingerie, Austral Bricks, Dr Le Winn's, Adairs, Eden Garden Products, Vita D and Husqvarna Sewing Machines.

Since becoming a mother of three boys, Cooper, Jasper and Baxter, Nicky has paved the way for all working mothers and is now a respected spokesperson for all issues concerning motherhood, families, and women.

Client testimonials

"Nicky related to our audience very well, they all praised how well she spoke and the message she conveyed was well received.

- Landmark Operations

"Nicky did a phenomenal job at conference this year, there was a lot that we wanted to deliver as part of the program and Nicky played an important role.

- Intimo Lingerie

" Everything went really well on Sunday and Nicky was fantastic as our M.C. The feedback from quests was also very positive about Nicky's role. I hope there's another occasion that I can work with Nicky on in the future.

- Cricket Australia

I just want to pass on my thanks for having the opportunity of working with Nicky today at the MYER Jamie Oliver event. Nicky was an absolute pleasure to work with - so professional yet relaxed and outgoing! I think she loved it as well - a huge Jamie fan.

- Myer
- "Just touching base in regards to Nicky's hosting role on Friday. She was a fabulous host and was very approachable. Nicky and Agnes had a really nice connection on stage and engaged well with the audience. The customers adored her, especially because she made time after each show to chat with the customers.
- David Jones
- "Thanks so much for your support in making Friday night so successful. Your expertise in polishing the rough ideas I had for how the evening would work were really appreciated. The evening would not have been to success it was without you.
- Telstra
- "Thank you for Saturday night, you did an absolutely fantastic job and we loved the way you interacted with the speakers and the entertainers! Very excited to announce that we made $52,000. We can hardly believe it! Plus on top of that a guest donated another $25000!
- Geelong Cystic Fibrosis Support Group

VIEW SPEAKER'S BIO ONLINE 2