

Jodie Hill

Real Estate Director and Comedian

Jodie Hill is the Director of her female-led real estate agency, sheSELLS Real Estate Game Changers, which was a finalist for Innovation and Marketing at the Real Estate Institute of Victoria Awards in 2023.

After a successful season at the 2025 Melbourne Comedy Festival, Jodie is back and in demand on the standup, corporate and community circuit for her real estate comedy from her show, "Whack Job! Hilarious and horrific tales about Real Estate".

A regular guest on Melbourne Radio 3AW and fill-in host for former digital radio station Disrupt, Jodie brings great talkback topics and a wealth of radio knowledge from her previous work with ABC Radio Bendigo, 774 Evenings, Nova100 Breakfast, MMM Afternoons, FoxFM late nights and community work with RRR & PBS.

A retrospective of her time in TV would have to include starring in several Coles commercials with celebrity Chef Curtis Stone, co-hosting the cooking show Beat The Chef, reporting for cult music show Recovery and doing 4 minutes of standup on live national TV on Channel 9's In Melbourne Tonight. Footage of Jodie + Jo Stanley's Channel 31's much loved, live chat show Boob Tube can still be found on the internet.

Jodie is fiercely proud to call herself a returned service woman. She was invited to entertain the troops in Egypt and United Arabs Emirates with Forces Entertainment. It was the ultimate career highlight for her as a performer.

Should you need an insider's view to real estate, a good-humoured radio or TV raconteur, a workplace roast or hilarious host for your next awards night, Jodie is ready to entertain the troops.
