

Cooper Cronk

Former Professional NRL Player

An NRL legend who made his debut for the Melbourne Storm in 2004, won his first Dally M Halfback of the Year in 2006. In 2008, he captained the Storm in the NRL grand final against Manly. In 2010, he was named in the Queensland State of Origin side, where he played 22 games.

Cooper Cronk's list of accomplishments is an impressive winning four premierships, the Clive Churchill Medal, two Dally M awards and the Golden Boot.

He concluded his remarkable professional journey with consecutive Grand Final victories at the Sydney Roosters. Since retiring, Cooper has established himself as one of the most respected voices in the game through his role as a presenter with Fox Sports. Additionally, he was appointed an independent director on the Queensland board in 2021.

Cooper's legacy in rugby league is marked by his exceptional playmaking abilities, strategic mindset, and unwavering commitment to excellence. His contributions have left an indelible mark on the sport, inspiring future generations of players.

VIEW SPEAKER'S BIO ONLINE 