

Annie Harvey

Motivational Speaker, TEDx Speaker & Workplace Wellbeing Expert

Annie is a TEDx and keynote speaker with expertise in neuroscience and brain health, education and coaching. Productivity Without Burnout. Motivation Without the Hype.

In a world overloaded with "resilience" talk, Annie Harvey delivers something different: real strategies to help teams manage stress, stay motivated, and perform at their best — without running on empty.

At the heart of her keynotes is the Inner MBA — a science-backed framework and practical toolkit that helps people raise their efficacy levels: the often-overlooked driver of workplace wellbeing and sustainable success. It's the missing piece in most burnout conversations — and the reason many wellbeing initiatives fall flat. She also likens company culture to our human nervous system — brilliantly explaining how both can get stuck, and more importantly, how they can reset and thrive.

Whether speaking to frontline teams or senior leaders, Annie helps audiences:

Reduce	burnout	and	absenteeism

 $\ \square$ Reignite purpose and productivity

 $\hfill \square$ Save time, energy, and money with smarter mental habits

A TEDx speaker and mental health advocate, Annie brings science-backed insights, refreshing honesty, and a generous dash of humour — because staying well at work shouldn't feel like another job.

Equip your people with the tools they didn't know they were missing.

Real talk. Real tools. Real change.
