

Mark Ricciuto

AFL Legend and Former Captain, Adelaide Crows

One of the most respected figures in Australian Rules Football, known for his toughness, leadership, and impact both on and off the field. A Brownlow Medallist, triple All-Australian captain, and Adelaide Crows premiership player, Mark Ricciuto's career spanned from 1993 to 2007 and cemented him as one of the AFL's greatest midfielders.

Affectionately known as "Roo," he played 312 games for the Adelaide Crows, becoming a central figure in the club's history. Renowned for his uncompromising style and ability to inspire teammates, Mark captained Adelaide from 2001 to 2007 and remains one of the most decorated players in the club's history. His achievements include eight All-Australian selections, three club best-and-fairest awards, and induction into the Australian Football Hall of Fame.

Beyond the field, Mark has built a successful career in media and business. A long-time member of the Triple M Adelaide breakfast show, he is known for his sharp insights, humour, and ability to connect with audiences. He also serves on the Adelaide Football Club board, contributing his experience and leadership to the game's continued growth.

As a speaker, Mark brings candid stories from the highs and lows of elite sport, offering valuable lessons on leadership, resilience, and teamwork. Whether reflecting on premiership glory, the challenges of captaining through transition, or the discipline required for sustained success, his presentations resonate far beyond football.

Mark Ricciuto's journey is one of grit, passion, and achievement, making him a compelling voice for any audience.
