

Stevie Jacobs

Media Professional, MC and Speaker

A seasoned media professional, live event host, and storytelling specialist with over 30 years of experience across television, radio, and corporate events.

Stevie Jacobs began his career at just 18 as a presenter and assistant producer for a regional news program, quickly developing a broad skill set that included writing, directing, shooting, and editing daily television content.

Stevie rose to national prominence as the beloved weather presenter on the Nine Network's Today show, where his charisma, energy, and natural rapport with audiences made him a household name. Over the years, he has travelled the globe, reporting from every continent, working with leading travel and tourism brands, and delivering content that resonates across consumer, corporate, and media audiences alike.

In recent years, Stevie has transitioned into speaking, corporate hosting, and content creation becoming a trusted figure for high-impact conferences, awards ceremonies, and live events. His blend of message-driven delivery, authentic storytelling, and live production experience makes him a standout in any room.

As a speaker and MC, Stevie helps organisations communicate with impact, clarity, and authenticity. He delivers memorable live experiences that reinforce brand and culture, with storytelling that connects powerfully with both internal and external audiences.

Whether on stage, behind a microphone, or consulting on content strategy, Stevie brings creative production expertise, broadcast-level polish, and a warm, relatable style. He understands the demands of live media, the importance of aligned messaging, and the unmatched power of storytelling to drive connection and inspire action.
