

Peter Maddison

Architect and TV Host

Peter Maddison is the original host of Grand Designs Australia and for more than a decade has been putting architecture back on the public agenda.

His unique appreciation of architecture has manifest in the many architecture awards that his practice has received, his extensive involvement with the profession and engagement with the general public.

He has won the RAIA National Presidents Prize, is a Life Fellow of the RAIA and Doctor of Design at RMIT University.

Peter has a passion for giving to industry and is currently the ambassador for non-for-profit organizations including Architects Without Frontiers, the Beaumaris Modern Group, and the Melbourne Open House program.

Peter Maddison talks about:

Architecture, design, project management, business and industry.

Client testimonials

- Peter was very well received by the audience, including Judges and Architects, for his enthusiastic and entertaining presentation.
- Building Dispute Practitioner's Society

VIEW SPEAKER'S BIO ONLINE C