

Ed Kavalee

Comedian and MC

Popular Australian comedian, actor, writer, podcaster, radio and television presenter and association football commentator. Ed Kavalee is a popular core cast member of Network 10's 'Have You Been Paying Attention', and in March 2025 it was announced that he would be competing in Network 10's latest series of The Amazing Race – Celebrity Edition alongside wife Tiff Hall.

Kavalee was a Producer and Ensemble Director on 10's rebooted 'Thank God You're Here', which made a hugely successful return to in 2023. Ed has worked in radio for over two decades, including most recently co-hosting 2Day Breakfast on the Hughesy, Ed and Erin show. He has also had numerous acting and presenting roles on the big and small screen, as well as co-writing and co-producing credits across a number of projects.

He is a highly sought-after event MC, for large-scale corporate and industry events across the country.

Ed has released children's books 'Daddy's Embarrassing Exploding Farty Shorts' and 'Mummy's Farty Mother's Day Mystery' both which he co-wrote with his son Arnold. These are follow ups to the picture book 'A First Time for Everything' which he wrote with his wife Tiffiny Hall.

Ed and Tiffiny are proud parents to their son Arnold and daughter Vada.

VIEW SPEAKER'S BIO ONLINE 2