

Marija Zivic

Broadcaster, MC, Host, Facilitator and Speaker

Marija is a nationally respected communications professional who has covered some of the most historic news events globally. As a former television journalist, she contributed to news broadcasts in Australia and overseas across the Seven Network, SBS, CNN, the BBC and New Zealand's TV3.

She is a tri-lingual storyteller and compelling presenter who knows how to keep the audience captivated, whether speaking in person or facilitating panels or webinars online. She is admired for her professional approach to research and preparation, her warm personality and her ability to expertly manage events, even when the unforeseen happens.

Marija's experience has resulted in a long list of lasting professional connections within the media, political circles and the corporate sector. She is a former member of the federal Press Gallery at Parliament House in Canberra where she made regular contributions to the ABC's Insiders Program.

When she's not working, Marija's happy place is on the tennis court with her husband and two children.

Client testimonials

- "Marija is truly a media & communications whisperer! She helped us develop content that communicated complex technical & legislative concepts in a simple & authentic way. Incredibly generous with her knowledge & support, she has coached & mentored our team through a number of webinars, Q&A sessions & other presentations."
- Digital Transformation Agency
- "Marija is a super smart, dynamic and positive person, who consistently achieves great results. In addition to her extensive experience and natural talent, she has the unique ability to deliver constructive and clear feedback in an encouraging and positive way. She had a big impact on our team and business - we loved working with her."

- MECCA

"Marija gave an inspiring and motivational speech about her own experience learning and using Serbian and Italian. She also presented prizes to the award winners and ensured she gave her own personal message of congratulations to each student as she shook their hand. Prior to the event we found her charming, obliging, very easy to liaise with, and prompt in responding. At the event, she arrived well in time and presented elegantly. The feedback we received from our staff, students and parents on Marija's speech was overwhelmingly positive. Her carefully chosen words had a real impact on them, and they still remember them 15 months later."
