About Howard Berg:

Howard was born in the USA and attended the State University of New York at Binghamton where he majored in both Biology and Psychology. Howard Berg became interested in Psychology during his junior year and completed the four-year program during his senior year. He was told it would be impossible, and that is what spurred him to develop his first accelerated learning program.

Howard taught science and computers for 10 years in New York City. He then became a corporate officer in an Electrical Construction Corporation. He went on to form his own company dedicated to learning and success for all.

Howard has created more than 14 brain-based learning programs. He's appeared on over 1,100 radio and television programs, and been featured on Comedy Central over 9 times for his ability to blend humor with his message. Howard's Time-Warner Book, "Super Reading Secrets," is in its 28th reprint, and Barrons books requested him to write "Speed Reading The Easy Way" for students. Nightingale-Conant sold over 650,000 copies of his "Mega Speed Reading" program.
