

Erin Molan

MC, Keynote Speaker, TV & Radio presenter

Erin Molan is one of Australia's most popular television and radio presenters, with over two decades as a journalist and broadcaster, she is one of the country's most recognisable faces.

Currently Erin is the host of her own primetime show 'Erin' on Sky News, a current affairs program that airs every Friday night at 5pm and is a columnist for the Daily Telegraph and Stellar Magazine. She is also the ambassador for multiple charities and foundations.

Erin spent over a decade as a sports and news presenter on Channel 9, including her position as the first female to host the NRL Footy Show and 2GBs Continuous Call Team.

Erin is passionate about politics, national security and foreign affairs, and uses her platform to support countless charities and causes, including Bowel Cancer Australia, Dreams2Live4, Syd2Camera and Tresillian. She is a sought after brand ambassador.

A well known and passionate leader for change, Erin campaigned for the Australian Government to introduce new online safety legislation for all Australians. Her own experience with online abuse led to her advocacy for new laws to protect Australians online. The 'Online Safety Act' or 'Erin's Law', as former Prime Minister Scott Morrison refers to it, was passed in Parliament in 2021.

Among her many achievements, Erin also competed in the world's most dangerous open ocean race, The Sydney to Hobart, on two occasions. The second, as part of the World Record breaking winning team, Perpetual Loyal.

Erin is also the proud designer and owner of a world-first baby range, 'By Erin', inspired by her own daughter Eliza, born in 2018.

Whether campaigning for the 'Online Safety Act' to sailing in the Sydney to Hobart yacht race, Erin is no stranger to a challenge.

A popular keynote speaker and master of ceremonies, Erin travels the country to share her story of persistence, failures and resilience as well as her journey and experiences on becoming a catalyst for change. Erin considers it a privilege and responsibility to inspire and empower the next generation of Australians.

Testimonials

“ We recently had Erin Molan MC our Sydney Red Shield Appeal Launch event. Not only was Erin well received by the audience she was easy to work with, personable and spent extra time interacting with our guests. She captivated the audience with her cheeky sense of humour and relatable commentary.

- Lisa O’Sullivan, The Salvation Army

“ Soldier On was delighted to have Erin Molan as the Master of Ceremonies for its National Gala Ball in Canberra, celebrating the organisation’s 10th anniversary. Erin was a fantastic addition to the evening, bringing professionalism and character to the event. Her authenticity and sincerity were admirable throughout the night and kept the audience thoroughly engaged.
